BROTHER OFFICER, TURNER, OF AN ATTEMPT TO "FRAME" HIM

Negro to Be Tool in Whisky
Disappearance Case, Officer Declares.

MAYOR KEEPS HANDS OFF

Executive Ignores Thomas When He and Informant, Ben Latney, Tell Story of Proposal of Turner, Saying "We'll Let Matters Drop Here."

Patrolman Andrew Thomas, a member of the Connellsville police force last night confirmed rumors that an alleged attempt had been made by Patrolman D. H. Turner to frame him in connection with the disappearance of some whisky from Cell No. 13 at the city hall where Thomas placed it on last Saturday evening at a commanding. It Thomas said Turner denied the story on Thursday night but that he could not help but believe the frame-up had been attempted.

Thomas said he was first told about the matter when Ben Latney, a colored man who resides on Water street approached him and told of the part he was to play in the living Latney is the negro from whom Thomas got some of the liquor. The officer immediately went before Mayor Duggan he says taking Latney with him. The colored man told the city's chief executive the story in full but the mayor for some reason failed to act telling it Thomas said Turner denied to make to bear the clouds of suspicion which would invariably have should him had he allowed matters to rest.

Patrolman Thomas has a clean record as long as he has been an officer in the city. He said he did not care to participate as he had part of a little deal with a Negro but that he liked the work.

LAW ENFORCEMENT
THEME AT RALLY AT HIGH SCHOOL SUNDAY

Chief Address of Day Will be Delivered by Prohibition Commissioner Kramer.

Arrangements have been completed for the mass meeting on Sunday afternoon to be addressed by John F. Kramer, federal prohibition enforcement commissioner and the Christian Citizenship Institute of which this meeting is a part.

The meeting will be held in the high school auditorium at 3:30 and will have as its presiding officer B. B. Smith. The opening address will be delivered by Dr. Larimore C. Denby, assistant superintendent of the National Reform association, who will speak on "Our National Safeguards." He will be followed by Commissioner Kramer who speaks on law enforcement.

Thomas said last night that Turner who had been out due the early part of the week called him into the office Monday night and denied he had anything to do with the robbery which was in circulation about the "ranch."

Patrolman Thomas said he didn't think he had ever done anything to offend Turner. "I don't see why he should pick on me that way," he offered added.

In telling of the affair Thomas said he was the first who, about 8 o'clock, in the evening, it was in a building at the corner of the alleys between the Zimmerman Wild furniture store and the Goldsmith Brothers' store, saw a negro standing around the bag denoted ownership and Thomas took the tag off the police station he placed it in his pocket. It contained four bottles of moonshine which were hurried in the bag.

Later in the evening, about 11:15 o'clock, he said he was on North Pittsburg street and two men strangers to him pointed out Latney, asking Thomas if he was going to allow the transportation of liquor through the city street. As Latney neared the city hall the officer overtook him and asked Latney what he had. The negro told him Thomas said that he had been given 75 cents by a man at the Pennsylvania railroad station to carry the bag and a hindrance to the bridge. The officer investigated the contents and found it to be bonded whisky.

"I don't have room for it all in my locker and I know it wouldn't be very safe there anyway," said Thomas. It would be easy to knock off the small lock I have on the door. Lieutenant McDonald helped me to carry the stuff to the corridor of the cell room and I placed it in No. 13 locker, he said door and the corridor door. About 9:16 o'clock I wanted to make sure it was safe and went back. The doors were both locked but the whisky was gone. I carried the basket and handbag in to the office where Lieutenant McDonald and Patrolman Turner were sitting. I said I thought the officer could do it. I know no one else had keys but Thomas and that both doors had been locked. I accused no person but Turner then spoke up and denied it was located in the latter city. He has arrived in Connellsville and has taken charge of his new position.

Shady Winter Garden Opened

A large number of Connellsville people attended the opening dance of the fall session at Shady Grove park last night and the beautifully decorated winter garden was presented a gay appearance. Manager B. Miller has had a number of men working on the summer dance pavilion and the new addition. The addition now to the appearance of the real winter garden, and will be the one of many social functions during the fall and winter. The roof of the pavilion presented a mass of lattice work around which long strings of evergreen were intertwined with gaily decorated hanging baskets containing large bunches of flowers hung at intervals from the roof. Suspended from the lattice work also were Japanese lanterns containing various colored lights which changed as the dancers passed under them. Around the edge of the dancing floor small tables seating two people were placed and refreshments were served to the dancers during the intermissions. On each table a small light with various colored shades were placed. Around the side walls huge rosebuds containing tiny electric lights in the center added beauty. The orchestra was seated on a raised dais to one side of the floor in a bower of lattice work and flowers. The music was especially tuneful. Many of the best hits from musical boxes now playing in the larger cities were rendered. Mrs. Earl Fuller, a violinist accompanied the orchestra. The Most Economical Way of Washing

To the average American housewife who employs a laundress the cost of each washday is about $3.30, an investigator learned recently, after extended inquiries.

He found the usual wage of a laundress to be $2.25 a day; two meals, 70 cents; carfare, 12 cents; and water, soap and fuel (gas, electricity or coal) 25 cents.

In some cities the average was higher; in some, less. And in most cities this figure did not include the ironing.

The average cost of family bundles sent to us for Family Laundry Service, varies from $1.25 to $1.75. Of course a few are more; many are less.

If you place no value whatever upon your own time, the cost to you of our Family Laundry Service is but a few cents more than what it would cost you to wash at home.

In detail: Our man calls for your family bundle. We wash everything—fine garments and heavy household goods, each according to its class; wash them in pure soft water and suds of fine, flaked soap.

We iron the flat pieces, like bed linen, tablecloths and napkins. Most of the underwear we dry so fluffy that it requires no ironing. Things such as skirts, children's clothes and other garments that need it, we starch and return ready for you to iron.

We do all the heavy work, leaving to you only a small part of the lighter. And the cost is less than washday in your own home.

Telephone and we will have our driver call for your family bundle.

A PROPERLY RESENTED AFFRONT TO REPUBLICAN WOMEN.

The crude and rude effort of the local organ of Barefoot to cast discredit upon Mrs. W. G. Schoonover, president of the Women's Republican Club of Connellsville, and one of the most capable and respected women of the city merits and is receiving the condemnation of every good citizen Democratic and Republican alike.

Because Mrs. Schoonover took occasion at the so-called Republican Independent Pro League meeting yesterday to clearly and politely state that the Republican women of Connellsville were in no wise connected with the standing of the affair, and that they are opposed to the Wilsonian League of Nations covenant to boost which was the object of the gathering—the Barefoot organ charged Mrs. Schoonover with a feeble attempt to stampede the meeting.

That Mrs. Schoonover's modest and straightforward statements received pure heavy applause from the Democratic women of the city, and that more delicate than than has been constructed to drive the difference in weight between the Wilson and dead bodies.

Government for any old kind of reservation will do.

The Barefoot is doing its best to discredit the Democratic women of the county are campaigning to get them to attend a good job in the P.M. car company to obtain its new car.

The same old dodge of trying to pin the blame on the Wilsonian League of Nations is being used to discredit the Democratic women of the city. They have practiced no deception in their meetings, hence they very properly object to being made the subjects of subterfuge in behalf of the last winning and now utterly hopeless cause of the unmeended Wilsonian League of Nations covenant and those candidates who are pledged to bunt away America's birthright.

The Republican women of the city are to be congratulated upon having so courageous a defender of their cause in their ranks as Mrs. Schoonover, as well for the spirit with which they resent an unjustifiable affront to them.

There is no objection on part of the Republican women of Connellsville to the Democrats holding all the meetings they want, provided they give the courage frankness and fairness to announce them as Democratic affairs. But any effort to use the names of Republicans to bolster up lend dignity to an effort to attract a larger attendance to a camouflaged non-partisan Democratic gathering will not receive the sympathy or support of the Republican women of the city. They have practiced no deception in their meetings, hence they very properly object to being made the subjects of subterfuge in behalf of the last winning and now utterly hopeless cause of the unmeended Wilsonian League of Nations covenant and those candidates who are pledged to bunt away America's birthright.

They have practiced no deception in their meetings, hence they very properly object to being made the subjects of subterfuge in behalf of the last winning and now utterly hopeless cause of the unmeended Wilsonian League of Nations covenant and those candidates who are pledged to bunt away America's birthright.

The Republican women of the city are to be congratulated upon having so courageous a defender of their cause in their ranks as Mrs. Schoonover, as well for the spirit with which they resent an unjustifiable affront to them.

There is no objection on part of the Republican women of Connellsville to the Democrats holding all the meetings they want, provided they give the courage frankness and fairness to announce them as Democratic affairs. But any effort to use the names of Republicans to bolster up lend dignity to an effort to attract a larger attendance to a camouflaged non-partisan Democratic gathering will not receive the sympathy or support of the Republican women of the city. her down as being a Democrat and be on your guard.

These words of wise political advice are not offered under the pretense of non-partisanship. They are as it were what they pretend to be the counsel of workers in behalf of the Republican ticket to the new voters of that party to be on their guard against the blindfold and deceptions of Democratic who are seeking to divide the allegiance of Republicans to their party ticket. Don't yield to such seductions.

A split Republican ticket is the equivalent of two votes for the Democratic beneficiary. Inasmuch as it takes a vote from the Republican candidate and gives one to his opponent.

The Democrats have become so accustomed to patronage as a means of keeping the deserving in office that they thought they could put over even the most womanly of women by making them patronage.

Miss Grimes, one of the speakers at yesterday's Democratic Independence gathering, said that the Irish-American women are not to be written unless America enters the League of Nations, which means that under Article X America will have to take up arms against Ireland to protect the rights of the Irish.

Of course that will be the Democratic way of settling the Irish question with satisfaction to the Irish people.

The projectors of the Pro League meeting, in their defense, contend from Dr. Tinsley that we ought to be non-partisan. The Republican women of Connellsville are the most capable and respected women of the city and are receiving the condemnation of every good citizen Democratic and Republican alike.

Because Mrs. Schoonover took occasion at the so-called Republican Independent Pro League meeting yesterday to clearly and politely state that the Republican women of Connellsville were in no wise connected with the standing of the affair, and that they are opposed to the Wilsonian League of Nations covenant to boost which was the object of the gathering—the Barefoot organ charged Mrs. Schoonover with a feeble attempt to stampede the meeting.

That Mrs. Schoonover's modest and straightforward statements received pure heavy applause from the Democratic women of the city, and that more delicate than than has been constructed to drive the difference in weight between the Wilson and dead bodies.

The Barefoot campaigners may be able to fool part of the Democratic women of the city, and part of the Wilsonian League of Nations covenanters, but they are opposed to the Wilsonian League of Nations covenant to boost which was the object of the gathering—the Barefoot organ charged Mrs. Schoonover with a feeble attempt to stampede the meeting.

DON'T SMOKE WHILE MOVING IN WOODS IS ADVICE TO HUNTERS

Dropped Cigaret or Cigar May Cause Untold Loss By Fire.

SEEKER FOR GAME LOSER

Special to the Courier.
HARRISBURG, Oct. 22—Gifford Pinchot, chief forester of the state, in a letter to the heads of sportsmen's associations today issued an appeal to hunters to do everything in their power to keep fires out of the woods during the hunting season just opened and to keep from smoking while in motion. Forester Pinchot said:

"At the season of the year thousands of men and boys in all parts of Pennsylvania are covering many thousands of miles of Pennsylvania territory in search of game. The state treasurer officially me that already more than 200,000 hunting licenses have been issued, and at least twice that number will be issued before the hunting season ends."

"I am thinking particularly of our forests. These hunters will nearly all be in the woods during their excursion into the country. I want them to help in the work of keeping fires out of the woods. Right now, coincident with the hunting season, comes the season when the woods are liable to destruction from fire. The leaves are piling up and getting drier every day. A spark dropped is quite likely to cause untold damage."

"What I want to ask the hunters—and this applies to my fellow fishermen as well—is to refrain from smoking while moving through the woods. While resting in a cleared space, or around the camp fire at night, smoke all you please, providing you see that you do with your camp fire is entirely out before leaving the spot. Just as you do with your camp fire, do the same with your smoke. See that it is dead before leaving. If the hunters and fishermen will stop smoking while in motion in the woods, many fires will be prevented."

"You know how it is: If you have a cigar in your mouth, or a pipe, and you see a squirrel or something to shoot at you forget everything but the game. I expect I would do the same in your place. Or if you are moving along, thereby creating a breeze, whether the air is still or not sparks fall behind you, despite of everything, and you may be safely over a hill when the fire starts, the innocent cause of a devastating conflagration."

"Practically every fire in the woods is the result of man's carelessness, and most of them are intentionally started. But, just as bad fires as malice, I want Pennsylvania's help in keeping away forest fires. Our appropriations for fighting them are so ridiculous, we might as well give the money away in a twinkling. Consequently watchfulness is the word."

"I would like every hunter this fall to agree not to smoke while moving in the woods."

PERSHING ENDORSES FIGHT AGAINST THE GREAT RED PLAGUE

Disagreeable Subject, But Few Things Bring More Happiness to Human Race Commander Declares.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22—Among the scores of answers duly received in answer to invitations to attend the All-American conference on the "great red plague" two stand out. One of these was an acceptance and one a "regret."

The acceptance was from General Pershing, who wrote: "The conference of the 'great red plague' to be held in Washington during the second week in December will deal with one of the important questions which concern the general welfare of the people. It is a disagreeable subject and one that we are prone to push aside and leave to chance; and yet there are few things that bring more unhappiness to the human race. In France where the peasant and rural welfare of our soldiers are of vital importance in order that they might fight with resolute courage and efficiency and be returned to their homes clean and self-respecting, every possible measure was taken to control venereal disease. Rigid regulation were promulgated but it was due to a general spiritual uplift more than to military prohibitions that our Army returned from its victory with a record that has never been equaled by that of any other army in the history of the world."

"We should take every precaution and exercise every good influence to see that our young men and women are free from the ravages of this dread disease. And I am very happy the coming conference will do much to accomplish this aim."

The "regret" came from David Starr Jordan, chancellor emeritus of Leland Stanford University, who wrote:

"I regret that I cannot attend your conference. I haven't the strength to travel that I used to have. I am proud to know, however, that I have helped to give you two members of your administrative council, Dr. Thomas A. Storey of the United States Industrial School, Hyattsville, and Dr. William B. Snow, of the American Social Hygiene Association. I am proud too, to have been the first to suggest the name 'Great Red Plague' for the twin diseases you are attacking."

THE PARADISE

"NOBODY'S GIRL" — A pleasing picture with Billy Rhodes in the leading role, is being presented today. From the time the picture opens with a raft drifting toward the desolate shore of Devil's Island on the cat's tail that follows a storm, until the final scene where Billy Rhodes and the aviator in his machine guide the government cutter to the hidden lair of the smugglers; the scenes change with a startling suddenness that leaves spectators enchanted with their beauty and variety. Much credit should be given to the cameramen who preserve the beauty of the scenes. "Nobody's Girl" is said to offer a real treat to those who love the sea and a beautiful love story, perfectly told.

THE SOISSON.

"THE PRICE OF REDEMPTION" — Presenting Bert Lytell in a splendid role is today's feature attraction. "The Price of Redemption" is a screen adaptation of I. A. R. Wylie's famous novel, "The Temple of Dawn," and as such depicts life in the dark heart of India. Mr. Lytell enacts the role of a young English army officer who first wins fame as a hero for a deed of exceptional bravery, and then returns to London and marries a wealthy girl. Following his marriage, which is loveless, he assumes the guilt of another for murder and returns to India, where he strikes into a slough of degradation, ruining himself with drink and drugs.

Mr. Lytell's portrayal of Leigh Dering, the young Englishman, presents a marvelous study in the downfall of a man through drink and drug addiction. Those who recall the acting of the popular young Metro star in "The Right of Way" and "Alias Jimmy Valentine" will take increased pleasure in his masterly performance in "The Price of Redemption."

THRO, N. Y., Oct. 22—A check has been sent for all members of the True Citizens' Corps Post of the American Legion was established here at the last post meeting. This is believed to be the first time that any one of the almost 16,000 posts of the Legion has made use of this form of mutual aid.

Any member of the organization who become incapacitated in any way will share in the benefit. The amount to be paid will be increased as the fund for the purpose is enlarged.

This same post has named a visiting committee to call on disabled men in the government sanatorium nearby and to attend to any personal wants that the government is unable to supply.

NOTHING that we could say would so thoroughly convince you of the value of Chamberlain's Tablets as a personal trial. We can tell you of thousands who have been permanently cured of chronic constipation, indigestion, biliousness, sick headaches and disorders of the stomach and liver, but this will have little weight with you as compared to a personal trial. That always convinces.

TELEGRAM

Effective midnight, October 12th, Acme Truck prices are guaranteed until February 1st, 1921, against reduction. If materials that go into Acme Trucks decline in price sufficiently to justify a reduction, credit covering such reduction will be allowed on Acme Trucks shipped from the factory after October 12th.

ACME MOTOR TRUCK COMPANY
C. J. Heim, Sales Manager

Study these figures below. They represent the comparison between Acme Truck prices and the average competitive worm drive truck prices for the past four years:

ACME TRUCKS IN

1917 - - - $199.00 Lower
1920 - - - $282.00 Lower

Why?

Acme policy has always been to increase prices by only such amounts as were necessary to take care of increased costs. Acme policy now is to give Acme purchasers the benefit of decreases in costs of materials entering Acme Trucks which might justify a change of price.

The above guarantee is your written evidence of this—and our distributor here is authorized to give you this in writing with the purchase of your truck.
